Then Shall the Righteous Shine Forth ...F. Mendelssohn (1809-1847)

Child’s Summer

This is the season I couldn’t wait for,
The time of sharpened senses,
When I could smell the crickets
And hear the flowers,
Wished, even, to hear the irritating question:
“Did you finish your homework?”
So I could laugh at it.
And now memory of the warm sun,
Ageless, calls me back,
And I smile.

Monday morning, May 30, 2016

Dear Members and Friends,

Can you believe that it is already almost June? 2016 is speeding by! I am sitting here in my office at home trying to make some sense of where all the time has gone—and gone so quickly over these last eighteen years. God has been good to Annah and me, and so has the Church in the Forest!

I relish our friendships together and look forward to enjoying the coming “retirement” years... with you good friends as company. Annah and I feel so blessed to be able to stay on the Peninsula and continue to worship with you. Charles, Annah and I will sit up in the balcony and participate with expectant hearts, minds and souls.

As many of you know, we will be going over to Scotland in July (it has been TOO long for me... I’m losing my accent!) where I will settle some business and check in with my old childhood friends... goodness-gracious they are!

In the remaining days of my tenure here in paradise, I will be visiting those who can no longer worship with us because of physical condition or difficulty getting transport to church. THAT I am looking forward to and it will give me the opportunity to say “thank you” in person to those people who have meant so much to me and to my ministry at Church in the Forest. Bittersweet, for sure!

Well, I have three more sermons to write and deliver, (but who’s counting?) so I am going to sign off now and get to work! Looking forward to seeing you all in these last weeks of my ministry. God Bless—and see you in Church,

William B. Rolland
