John Newton, the composer of the words to “Amazing Grace,” is a study in transformation from reckless, irresponsible, rudderless youth to an upright man with imposing intellectual gifts and achievements. His mother died when he was seven, and he went to sea with his father, carrying slaves from Africa. When he was twenty-three years old, he was in command of a slave ship which was caught in a terrible storm at sea. Believing he and all aboard the waterlogged vessel were doomed, his epiphany came during the long, turbulent night. Well, it was kind of a time-release epiphany. His actual conversion to faith occurred after the ship arrived safely on shore. By degrees. Six years after, really, if you are a nit-picker about dates. But there is no doubt about his brilliance and his total devotion to Christianity. He was ordained and became curate at Olney, Buckinghamshire, in 1764. It was there that he formed a lifelong friendship with William Cowper, and produced the Olney Hymns. He composed his own epitaph, which reads:

John Newton, Clerk.
 Once an infidel and libertine,
 A servant of slaves in Africa,
 Was, by the rich mercy of our Lord and Saviour
 JESUS CHRIST,
 restored, pardoned, and appointed to preach the Gospel which he an long laboured to destroy.
 He ministered,
 Near sixteen years in Olney, in Bucks,
 And twenty-eight years in this church.

Dear Members and Friends,

An evening of thanks and appreciation!

Last night, in the gorgeous home of Joe and Nancy Verska, we as a congregation, said “Thank you” to Charles Anker for his nine years of wonderful service to The Church in the Forest. What a party! It was a night to remember! Thank you to Melinda and Bob as well as our special soloist for the day, Salmaaz Adeli, who sang to Charles the hit song from Wicked:

“Changed for the Better.”

So much of me
Is made of what I learned from you
You’ll be with me
Like a handprint on my heart
And now whatever way our stories end
I know you have re-written mine
By being my friend...
Like a ship blown from its mooring
By a wind off the sea
Like a seed dropped by a skybird
In a distant wood
Who can say if I’ve been changed for the better?
But because I knew you

Charles isn’t going to just disappear. He will be coming by to worship whenever he can and from time to time, be a part of the service of a Sunday morning as preacher or touching our hearts and minds with one of his prayers. He will be preaching as our “guest preacher” on February 1.

See you Sunday, and bring a friend with you if you can.

See you then,

William B. Rolland
